Introducing The Naturally Magnetic Male

You've seen him.

He walks around confidently. He smiles. He is interesting and interested in others. He is observant. He is warm and people -- both men and women -- are receptive to him when he speaks.

He is Naturally Magnetic.

But how did he get this way? What steps did he take to get there? And how can you do the same?

The short answer is Progressive Conditioning. He becomes Naturally Magnetic by starting out small, adding in 1 skill, then another, then another, then another until all he has all the skills. Each skill compounds with the addition of each new one, until he reaches the point where unconscious and conscious competence are in alignment.

And you can take the same steps to become Naturally Magnetic yourself.

A person with a large amount of personal magnetism has the following 7 characteristics:

#1 Presence - personal appearance or bearing, esp. of a dignified or imposing kind.

#2 Regal Bearing - someone who never gets star-struck because he is the star.

#3 Manner - a way of doing, being done, or happening; mode of action, occurrence, etc.

#4 Finesse - extreme delicacy or subtlety in action, performance, skill, discrimination, taste, etc.

#5 Enigma - a person of puzzling or contradictory character

#6 Diplomacy - skill in managing negotiations, handling people, etc., so that there is little or no ill will; tact.

#7 Allure - to be attractive or tempting.

There are 15 skills, 15 natural traits and 15 micro-calibration skills I can think of, that when combined together and shrouded with progressively developed confidence about approaching strangers, will make anyone naturally magnetic. But this is only part of it.

Behind all that is self-analysis -- an honest discussion of his own faults, failings, strengths, and best qualities. Doing this individual work and being truly comfortable with the results will bring about the inner confidence he's always wanted, for at this point, he is truly comfortable in his own skin.

This self-analysis is also the gateway to the soul. By looking inside, a part is unlocked, which leads to even greater analysis and an even greater understanding of who he is as a person.

When he can understand himself, then he can begin to observe and understand others. When he can observe others and get in touch with what they are thinking and feeling, then starting any interaction he wants is easy.

When he can identify and empathize with what others are feeling, he needs never worry about what to say or about running out of things to say. Every human being has experienced the same emotions and even though he may have never been to Thailand, he can certainly relate to the experience of adventure, new experiences and how it felt when he did it.

This ability to discover and share honest thoughts and emotions with another person is the key to allure. When a woman is able to share things of herself that rarely see the light of day, her depth of character and personality can unfold like a red petal from a rose. When he appreciates this and acknowledges he finds it attractive, she has no option but to feel it is justified.

This ability also brings with it power. No longer does he need to be desperate with his sexual interest. He can be stingy and only display it to the women he truly respects and admires. He can be discerning about the women he spends his life with. He can make demands about behavior he will and won't tolerate. He can choose who he is friends with and who he is sexually interested in.

Welcome to the world of a Naturally Magnetic Male.

Regards,
